

Air France / KLM Marine and Offshore changes.

From the 1st of January KLM and Air France have introduced new rules when booking marine and offshore fares.

In order to book marine and offshore fares you will need to be a part of AFKL Bluebiz programme. This programme gives your company an individual Bluebiz number which we must put into your KLM and Air France bookings. If you are already signed up to this programme and have not already advised us of your companies Bluebiz number please drop us an email to development@marine.travel

As a result of these changes AFKL have introduced new benefits to having this corporate number which were not available to marine and offshore fares previously. These include:

- Earning Blue credits on Marine and Offshore tickets.
- Redeeming Blue credits to upgrade Marine and Offshore tickets.
- Redeeming Blue credits to buy published fares directly with the airline. (not marine and offshore tickets)

AF and KLM have given 6 months grace period to sign up to the programme and settle into the new process, as of 1st July we will no longer be able to issue any KLM and Air France tickets without the Bluebiz number.

To sign up to Bluebizz please go to <https://www.bluebiz.com/en/enrol-now>

If you would like any further details or are unsure whether we hold your company Bluebiz number please call on: +44 (0) 1227 470 720 and select option 3, or drop us an email to: development@marine.travel
